Estaminet

One of the best Belgian Premium Pils. It's light beer with very pleasant aroma and fresh malt taste. This beer has interesting history of the name. In the 16th century Catholic Spanish army had a battle against advancing Pritestantism in Belgium. The Spanish soldiers were staying in local hotels and for the best rating of the service they said: «Esta Minetta!» It means «there are girls». Alc. 5,2%

Tripel Karmeliet

Special Belgian tripel. It has golden beautiful colour and nice white head. Classical tripel usually contains triple portion of barley malt. But Tripel Karmeliet contains three different grain malts: barley, wheat and oats. It's really multy-grain beer. The Carmelites from Dendermonde in East Flanders were brewing a three-grain beer in the 1600s. It's a small history of the name. This three-grain beer owes its fruity character (banana and vanilla) to the home-cultured yeast. There is plenty of citrus in the note, also bitter lemon and sugar. A bit of malt on the tongue combined with sweet ripe fruit - exotic like banana. The finish also offers light citrusy touches but sweet malts as well. Alc. 8,4%
